Let A be an $n \times n$ real matrix such that $3A^3 = A^2 + A + I$ (I is the identity matrix). Show that the sequence A^k converges to an idempotent matrix. (A matrix B is called idempotent if $B^2 = B$.)